OR

Full waiver, if applicant is, in the discretion of the court, unable to proceed in an action without payment of fees, costs, and charges and whose payment of those fees, costs, and charges would result in substantial hardship to the person or his or her family.

OR

Full waiver, if applicant is an indigent person pursuant to 735 ILCS 5/5-105.5 which states: "Indigent person" means a person whose income is 125% or less of the current official federal poverty income guidelines or who is otherwise eligible to receive civil legal services under the eligibility guidelines of the civil legal services provider or court-sponsored pro bono program. [Note: SCR 298 provides that in any case where a party is represented by a civil legal services provider or attorney in a court-sponsored pro bono program, the party shall be allowed to sue or defend without payment of fees, costs or charges, upon the attorney's filing a certification with the court, without necessity of an application.]
